

Constellation West Promotes Mark Redford to USAMS III Program Manager

WASHINGTON and OMAHA, Neb. March 17, 2016 — Constellation West, a leading provider of mission-critical technology solutions for the U.S. government and one of the fastest-growing service-disabled veteran-owned, women-owned, small disadvantaged businesses in the country, announced today it has promoted Mark A. Redford to USAMS III Program Manager.

An Air Force veteran, Redford retired as the Command Chief Master Sergeant at the Air Force Weather Agency, Offutt AFB, NE. "His personnel management and program leadership skills are a terrific match for our customers, company, and teammates," said Lisa Wolford, president and CEO of Constellation West. "Mark's efforts continue to expand the diverse capabilities of the company that support some of our nation's most critical defense related activities. He knows how to manage people, and programs and delivers a level of detail and insight that were key in my decision to promote him to the USAMS III Program Manager." In this new role, Redford leads Constellation West and its partner companies in the capture, proposal and execution of USAMS III.

Redford previously held several leadership positions within the federal contracting and defense industries, including as program manager at CACI Federal. Before entering the private sector, Redford served for 27 years in the U.S. Air Force, completing his career as chief enlisted manager for the Air Force Weather Agency at Offutt Air Force Base. During his career he served in various positions at the wing, major command and air staff levels.

Redford graduated from Touro University International with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and Human Resource Management. He also holds an Associate degree in Applied Science in Weather Technology from the Community College of the Air Force.
